

ORLEBAR BROWN+

INTERNSHIP – PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT

Introduction

Orlebar Brown launched in 2007 as a more tailored approach to swim shorts. For 2011 we are moving from the pool, off the beach and into the resort by expanding our range into shirts, jackets, trousers and accessories.

We are looking for strong team player to join us in our Product Department for 12 months.

At Orlebar Brown we source, design and manufacture our own range which is sold on our own UK and US websites, as well as a wholesale distribution to over 160 stockists around the world. We are also opening our first retail store in London in June.

The Product Department manages all aspects of the product lifecycle, from conception and development right through to in-store delivery and sell-through.

Job Description

As an Intern working within the Product Department you'll be exposed to and have the opportunity to be heavily involved with a wide variety of aspects of the product lifecycle.
